A violent wind and rain storm struck here about 5:30 o'clock yesterday evening, lasting thirty minutes. The rain was accompanied by vivid flashes of lightning and loud and rumbling thunder. ## AN UGLY FALL

A Ten-Year-Old Lad Received a Fractured Skull Yesterday

Cassius Claypoole, a lad about ten years old, met with an accident yesterday evening that will probably cost him his life.

He was helping an older brother unload cars at the Gaebke & Co. Coal Elevators in the East End and in some manner lost his footing and fell off the elevated tramway. In the fall his body struck the roof of the engine room and rolled through an opening onto a drum containing a wire rope which pulled the loaded car from the river to the yard.

He fell a distance of sixteen feet.

According to statements of his attending physicians last night there was a concussion with a probable fracture of the skull.

A more thorough examination will be made this morning.

He was in a semi-conscious condition, but is reported better this morning.

It has been only a few weeks since the boy's father was buried.

His home is in January street.

Master Miller Chandler of Minerva is visiting Master Leo Hawes of Sutton street.

The First Ward Hose carriage was out yesterday, commanded by Captain Kinney McClanahan, and hauled by Misses Ella McClanahan, Lida and Sue Richeson and Mrs. Alice Richeson. It was a false alarm, but lots of fun for the West End Fire Department.

WHO KNOWS HER?

Reputed Maysville Girl Reported Hurt With John Robinson's Circus

If all the people that were born in Maysville, or that have lived here, or that are reported as belonging here, could be gathered together, they'd make a town as big as Bombay.

Yesterday a telegram was sent from Ithaca, N. Y., stating that Miss Mary Rhodes of this city, with John Robinson's Circus, received serious injuries while doing her aerial act at Cortland.

By the breaking of a toe strap, she shot head first 60 feet through the air into the reserved seats, landing on her head and shoulders.

She was placed in the Hospital there.

Nobody hereabouts seems to know anything about the unfortunate young woman; and she is just as likely to belong in Mesopotamia as in Maysville.

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT

Thomas Condon Almost Blown to Pieces By Dynamite

Yesterday morning at 10:20 o'clock Thomas Condon, while blasting near Mayslick, met with a horrible accident. He was using dynamite and had successfully discharged several blasts.

He was using a fishing pole in ramming the dynamite, when there was a premature explosion. The right hand and arm were torn almost completely from the body and had to be amputated near the shoulder; his left hand badly bruised and lacerated and arm half severed, midway between wrist and elbow; face and scalp contused and lacerated, producing a ghastly aspect; throat cut, exposing carotid artery, jugular veins and trachea; both eyes severely lacerated and burned, it is thought sufficiently to destroy vision; the skull and bones of face were exposed over a large area. It seemed the flesh was literally burned from the bones.

The whole injured area was filled, in addition to material of the explosion and fragments of stone, with small splinters of a fishing pole which he held in his hands. The cane was blown into small fragments which penetrated the injured area in unnumbered quantities.

The patient was operated upon at noon by Drs. Taulbee of this city, assisted by the Mayslick physicians.

The injured man rallied after the operation, but it is impossible to prognosticate thus early as to the outcome, either as to life or recovery of vision.

He was injured several weeks ago in this city by falling from a wagon.
